

PAEDIATRIC EMERGENCY PHYSICIAN

Reference no. HR2011_1625

We are looking for an enthusiastic Paediatric Emergency Physician or a FACEM with substantial paediatric experience to work on a full time or half time basis in our Emergency Department.

Over the last 5 years acute paediatric presentations at the Austin Hospital have risen to be 21% of attendances and are projected to exceed 15,000 next year. A wide range of medical and surgical problems including acute injuries presents to our department. The Emergency Department has a separate dedicated Paediatric Emergency area including its own waiting room, 6 cubicles, a paediatric procedure room and nursing staff. A paediatric short stay unit is currently being considered.

Our Emergency Department is one of Melbourne's leading departments and offers a collegiate environment with fantastic opportunities to develop your clinical experience, research credentials or other professional interests. We have a large mixed consultant group, many with substantial experience in paediatrics. The team values paediatrics and is keen to attract a physician that shares our values of compassion, respect, quality and life-long learning.

Remuneration shall be based on the Austin Health Emergency Physician's pay scale, details are available on request.

So if you want to be part of our team give us a call.

Applications close on 12th February 2012.

For more information, please visit www.austin.org.au or contact Dr. Fergus Kerr (Director of Emergency Medicine) on (03) 9496 5000