

Staff Specialist (Emergency Medicine)
North West Tasmania, Australia

The North West Area Health Service (NWAHS) incorporates the North West Regional Hospital, Mersey Community Hospital and Primary Health services located on the North West Coast of Tasmania. These facilities are working together to integrate primary and acute care to improve the patient journey and the hospitals are associated teaching hospitals of the Rural Clinical School, University of Tasmania.

We have the following vacancies:

Staff Specialist (Emergency Medicine)

Vacancy Nos: 514795 and 518650 (two vacancies)

To provide specialist emergency medicine care to patients attending the Department of Emergency Medicine at the North West Regional Hospital and/or Mersey Community Hospital within the NWAHS. This position will provide opportunity for undergraduate, post-graduate and other teaching. Participation in retrieval and support of district hospitals and rural GPs is also a requirement of this position.

This position may be suitable for doctors seeking part-time employment.

The salaries for these positions are commensurate with qualifications and experience within the Salaried Medical Practitioners (AMA Tasmania/DHHS) Agreement 2009.

With Tasmania's pristine wilderness on your doorstep and Melbourne only an hour's flight away, these positions offer you the opportunity to be part of an innovative health service and be rewarded with an enviable work/life balance.

We offer:

- An attractive salary including superannuation and access to salary packaging
- Relocation and accommodation assistance
- Motor vehicle and associated expenses
- Access to continuing professional development
- Strong professional and well balanced lifestyle
