

Clinical Director

Emergency Department
Waikato Hospital
Hamilton

An open letter to all Emergency specialists

Are you as passionate about stewardship of your department as you are about caring for patients?

Does excellence inspire you?

Waikato Hospital is one of the biggest hospitals in New Zealand with the biggest regional trauma catchment.

We are currently constructing a new building for our Emergency Department which will be ready to occupy in January 2011.

We are looking for a clinical director who will provide operational, professional and governance leadership. Our Emergency team has a vision and single minded pursuit of being world class.

As the group manager of Waikato Hospital, with a background as an intensive care specialist, I am personally determined to find a doctor of the calibre our Emergency team deserves.

Look on our website for details of the role, our Emergency Department and our hospital. I don't think you will be disappointed. If you are still not sure we are the place for you, then contact me. I think I will be able to convince you that we are serious.

Yours sincerely,

Dr Grant Howard
